A MESSAGE FROM “Our School Counsellor”

Mrs. Killam, MEd, LCT-C

And just like that....SUMMER BREAK is over!

We hope you all had a fun break with family and friends. Back to school season is now here and with it comes a lot of changes. Whether your child is just starting school or going back after summer vacation, it can be both exciting and stressful. Be kind to yourself and try to keep stress to a minimum. Here are some quick tips:

- 1. Reframe negative thoughts—if you notice your child feeling anxious, help your him/her reframe negative thoughts. Instead of focusing on what is going wrong, celebrate all of the good. Sometimes, we have to look a little deeper to find the positives but there is always something good in every day.
- 2. If mornings are stressful in your home, try to prep as much as possible the night before. Lay clothes out, prepare lunches, etc. Preparing in advance may alleviate some stress.
- 3. Create a family calendar to keep everyone on track with sports, appointments and events.

This month, we celebrate #BeccaToldMeTo Day and remember the impact Becca Schofield made in our lives. Spread kindness everywhere you go. Perform a random act of kindness today. Give a smile, buy someone a coffee, give a compliment, write a thank you note. Let's ensure the legacy of Becca's global kindness campaign continues for years to come.
